WOMEN IN ANTEBELLUM SOUTH

Patricia Brady is a social and cultural historian. She has a PH.D. in history from Tulane University, and served as director of publications at the Historic New Orleans Collections for twenty years. For the past four years she has headed DivaBooks, a publication and video consulting company. She has written extensively about Martha Washington and her family; among her works are Nelly Custis Lewis's Housekeeping Book, George Washington's Beautiful Nelly, and "Martha Washington" in American First Ladies: Their Lives and Legacy. In commemoration of the Bicentennial of the Louisiana Purchase, she produced the video That Bought a Continent

Brady was vice president for programming of the Tennessee Williams/New Orleans Literary Festival for many years and now serves as president of the Festival's boards. She is a member of the board of the Louisiana State Museums and a member of the Southern Historical Association. Ms. Brady leaves in New Orleans.

Patricia Brady gave the group an account of the life of Martha Washington. Born in Virginia, the first lady was strong, outgoing, and the pinnacle of a Southern Lady.
