RICHIE RILEY

Richie Riley, who spent the past two years in the ACC as an assistant at Clemson, has been named head men's basketball coach at Nicholls State University. The 33 year old coach becomes the 11th head coach in Colonel Men's basketball history. This London, KY native is excited to call Thibodaux his new home as the community has been very welcoming to his family.

Riley recalls having a love for basketball and coaching since a very young age. At 8 years old, he even asked for a dry erase board one Christmas. His college basketball days were ones of dedication, more than skill. The love of the game and extreme loyalty paved the way to a coaching career. Just as a player, Riley was willing to start at the bottom. Setting goals and achieving them always opened the door to bigger and better opportunities. He took pride in networking and meeting people in the industry. Riley believes he will build something special at NSU. First and foremost, he believes in FAMILY! He is building a basketball team of brothers. He believes in TACT: Trust, Accountability, Communication, and Toughness. One of Riley's
